Oregon State Educational Association and Teachers' Institute.

SIXTH ANNUAL SESSION

The sixth annual session of the Oregon State Educational Association and Teachers' Institute was held at Oregon City, commencing July 31st and continued three days The first item of importance that claimed the attention of the Institute was the election of officers to serve the present session and ensuing year The result was as follows President, Rev G H Atkinson Vice Presidents Bishop Scott, Rev J G Deardorff and Mr E. Cartwright; Recording Secretary, O S Frambes Corresponding Secretary D C. Pearson, Treasurer, B Cornelius Committees were appointed on the various subjects connected with the Institute

The various studies of the school-room received the consideration of the Institute—being presented in the form of lectures by teachers appointed to present them A discussion generally followed each lecture, which gave ample opportunity for an interchange of ideas and comparison of views respecting the different methods of teaching the several branches of study taught in our common schools With a few exceptions the topics were well presented, and generally met the approval of the Institute

The committee on "Religious Instruction in Public Schools," made a report which contained sentiments that did not meet the views of a number of the members, and after a long and animated discussion the report was finally rejected.

The committee on School Law was more successful After a good deal of labor they presented a school law which received the unanimous approval of the Institute, and will be submitted to the coming Legislature for their approval or rejection It is the opinion of the committee that drafted said school law, that it contains all the essential elements to make it thorough and efficient in its operations, Some of the leading features of it are the following

First. It provides for a State Board of Education—composed of the Governor, Superintendent of Public Instruction, and one member from each Judicial district—each of the above named officers to hold for a term of four years, but part to be chosen every two years. The duty of this State Board will be to adopt a course of study and rules and regulations for all public schools in the State, provided such rules and regulations shall not be enforced in conflict with special rules and regulations adopted by the Board of Education of any city or any city and county to recommend rules and a list of books suitable for district school libraries; to grant teachers life diplomas, to provide regulations for the examination of teachers by State, City or County Board of Examination; to adopt a uniform State series of text books to be used in all public schools; and as much other business as properly belongs to such a body The last named item, concerning text books, is a subject that perhaps can be reached in no other way than by a State Board of Education

Secondly Said school law provides for a State Board of Examination composed of the State Superintendent and the County Superintendents of the several counties in the State. The State Superintendent and any two County Superintendents together with two or more practical teachers whom the State Superintendent shall select, shall have power to examine teachers and grant State certificates—of two, four or six years.

Thirdly, Said law provides for a Superintendent of Public Instruction, elected by the people, whose duty is to travel throughout the State and hold Teachers Institutes and lecture upon the subject of education and to labor in connection with the County Superintendents in such ways as shall best advance the great subject of common school education. He will be the executive officer of the State Board of Education

Decided improvements, upon the present law, are made in the organization of districts whereby much of the present trouble and inconvenience will be avoided The duties and powers of district officers are defined more explicitly and in every instance where the present law fails to meet the wants of the different communities, an effort has been made to remedy the defect Such are some of the features of the school law adopted by the Institute, and which awaits the action of the Legislative Assembly

The other committees appointed by the Institute made full reports upon the subjects assigned them, which were unanimously received and adopted.

The evening lectures—the first by Judge Thornton, on "Female Education," the second by Professor Wood, on "Botany," and the third by Dr. Wythe on the "Recent discoveries in physical science," were full of instruction and well received by large and intelligent audiences Several young ladies read essays that were pronounced to be fine productions and certainly they deserved the praise bestowed upon them The exercises were intermingled from the first to last with music by the Oregon City Glee Club, which received the hearty thanks of the Association for its music The session was honored with the presence of several gentlemen not immediately identified with the labor of the schoolroom, but who are desirous to help forward the great subject of common school education. Their counsels and deliberation added much to the interest and value of the Institute. Prof. Wood endeared himself by his lectures and social ... to the teachers of Oregon, and will be kindly remembered by them long after his departure from this State. Such is a brief outline of a very interesting session of three days, spent in interchanging ideas upon a very important subject

O. S. FRAMBES, Sec'y

OREGON CITY, Aug. 13, 1866.

THE PHILADELPHIA CONVENTION.—The New York World thus notifies Republicans that they are not wanted at the Philadelphia Convention:

"Politicians of the Raymond stripe will form but a small minority of the delegates who will be chosen to the Convention. Even if there was a majority, they could apply no test to exclude Democrats which would not cause a more sweeping exclusion of the Southern delegates The Convention would thereby re-enact the policy of Congress, stultify the call on which it assembled and render its proclaimed protest against the Radical Rump Congress ridiculous by producing a sort of high-life-below-stairs rump of its own. If, by any trick of parliamentary legerdemain, a minority of that way of thinking should get the start in organizing the Convention, the excluded delegates would proceed to hold a separate Convention, consisting of all the Southern delegates and the minority of those from the North But no such trick will be practicable. The Convention will be a body in which the Southern people will be truly represented. They need have no hesitation in sending delegates, nor any fear of the Congressional test oath. They will meet friendly delegations from the North, strong enough in numbers and influence to secure a respectful hearing for whatever the South may have to say. If a few Republicans of the Raymond pattern choose to bolt from the Convention, their presence will be little missed. Either with them or without them, the Convention will be held, and the Southern delegates may be assured of the fair play in it which is denied them by the Rump Congress. Union means the Union of the North with the South. That Southern delegates come to meet the North, with a view to joint political action, is a good enough proof of their Unionism Union means Union with the South, and the Times 'might as well try to stop Niagara with bulrushes," as to prevent the South coming to the Convention, and their friends in the North appearing there in great force to welcome them "

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 15, 1866.

A School Law

In another column we publish a synopsis of the proceedings of the sixth annual session of the Oregon Educational Association and Teachers' Institute, from which it will be seen a school bill has been prepared with a view of presenting it to the consideration of the next Legislature A bill prepared by the Association was under consideration at the last special session, but failed through an unfavorable impression among many of the members, as to some new features contained in it Of this new bill, only a few of the prominent provisions are explained, and they so briefly that it will be found impossible to form any definite opinion as to their merits If the Association desire the passage of the bill, it should take immediate steps to have it very soon in the hands of the members elect and as many of the friends of education as possible, together with such arguments as the Association may have to urge in its favor. Thus the opinion of those most likely to control legislative action upon it may be made up by the assembling of the Legislature. That our school system is a very defective one is beyond denial, but it would serve no practical end to exchange it for another unless we can get an improved one During the rush and excitement of a legislative session very little thought is usually expended upon matters of the very highest moment. This has been particularly true of school bills in our Legislature, and the coming session is not likely to prove an exception in that respect.

The fact that several of our most intelligent and earnest educators have given this bill a careful study, and have spent much time in its preparation, should carry much weight with it, but that fact alone cannot and ought not to insure its passage by the Legislature. What we want is a law which will be, not merely an experiment, but a practical, common sense law—one which will so commend itself in practice as to ward off, for years at least, the perils of amendment and tinkering. Such a law will, of necessity, be very radically different in many respects from the one now on our statute books Some of its provisions will be very likely to be startling to some people, but that should be no argument against it. A few startling innovations upon our present slow-coach school law—if made in a proper direction—could have only the most beneficial results.

The synopsis of the bill prepared by the Educational Association discloses some features which we think objectionable, but upon the whole, we rather like it. We bespeak for it, at the hands of the Legislature, a thorough and unbiased examination, and if it be found as good as the character of its framers would warrant us in anticipating, we hope the Legislature will make it a law, even at the hazard of considerably increasing the public school tax. The State can afford to pay well for a better school system No expenditure in that direction was ever yet money wasted.

Government Aid for the White Bluffs and Helena Road

Allusion has been made in our Washington correspondence to the introduction of a bill in the Senate providing for the construction of a wagon road from White Bluffs, in Washington Territory, to Helena, in the Territory of Montana. The following is a copy of the bill:

Be it enacted, &c., That the Secretary of the Interior be, and he is hereby authorized and empowered to survey, locate and construct a wagon road from White Bluffs, in Washington Territory, via Pen d'Oreille Lake to Helena, in Montana Territory

SEC 2. And be it further enacted, That to enable the Secretary of the Interior to carry out the provisions of the foregoing section, the sum of $100,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be, and the same is hereby appropriated out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

This bill was called up in the Senate on the 13th of July, and discussed at some length, but no definite action was had in regard to it. Whether it was reached again during the session we are not informed The probabilities, however, are that as Congress adjourned only a few days after, the bill was not again taken up. This is rendered the more probable from the vigorous opposition which the measure received in the Senate on the occasion above stated.

The necessity of the road and the justice and propriety of aid from the Government to build it, were clearly set forth by Senator Nesmith. The bill was opposed chiefly by Senators Fessenden and Grimes, the former of whom objected to it as a piece of "loose legislation" asked for without any preliminary information by Congress upon the subject. He did not know but that he might favor an appropriation if he had the proper information in regard to it, but until such information could be had, he thought the bill ought to lie over. Senator Grimes could not vote for the bill because the road was not named as a military road, and had not been recommended by the War Department or any of the officers of the army. He wanted to know more about the matter before an appropriation was made that might be inadequate for the purposes for which it was designed

If no action was had on the bill before the adjournment of Congress, it will no doubt be called up again at the next session. It is of great consequence to the region to be traversed by this road, as well as to Oregon and the whole Northwestern country, that this bill should pass. The Territories of Washington, Idaho and Montana are rapidly filling up with a permanent population, and all possible facilities should be thrown in their way to open them up to the commercial distinction to which they are destined. An outlay of this kind would soon be recompensed by the benefits the whole country would derive from the development of a region in which such vast stores of wealth are hidden

THAT "RECORD" AGAIN —The following is the latest in relation to M. H. Abbott, late of the Herald, and his celebrated "record." We copy from the Old Flag, a paper published at Pittsfield, Pike county, Illinois The number from which this extract is taken bears the date of June 27th:

Milt. Abbott, of the Oregon Herald, offers fifty dollars reward to any one who will prove by the files of the Pike County Democrat that he ever opposed the war. The Oregonian appears to be "stirring Milt up" We have his record, gentlemen

STATE ITEMS

Dr Benson, editor of the Advocate, was chosen to preside at the Conference of the M. E Church now in session at Albany

One of the Quartzville teams, says the Statesman, brought out on a late trip, some six hundred feet of white pine lumber, perfectly clear stuff and equal to any of the Maine pine. It was manufactured at the Quartzville mill and is to be used at the Salem Foundry for patterns

Gov Woods, who has been on a tour to California for some weeks, arrived here last (Tuesday) evening from Astoria, having stopped at that place for a few days on the arrival of the California steamer there. The Governor will remain in this city for several days

Mr B F Dowell's eldest child, a little girl three years of age on Wednesday last, says the Sentinel, fell to the ground from the portico of the second story a distance of seventeen feet. Unaccountably, however, she was not badly injured

The Sentinel has information from Galice Creek this week, which reports everything there in a flourishing condition The miners are making preparations for an active raid on the treasures of mother earth this fall and winter

The Review of this week comes down to a half sheet—a fashion peculiar to Copperhead newspapers at this time. An atrophy has killed one-half of the Review and the Confederate Democrat; the remaining half of them will probably go the same way before long.

There was a noisy brawl at a hurdy-gurdy house at Oregon City last Friday night, in which a knife was used, some loud yelling and the tallest kind of running were done. A "minion of the law" put a stop finally to the proceedings, since when, all has been quiet along the banks of Tumwater

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO AUGUST 14.

The Philadelphia Convention

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13.—In order to preserve harmony in the proceedings of the Convention Fernando Wood has been ordered not to appear as a delegate

The rain which has been falling has interrupted materially the completing of the wigwam, and it will not be ready to-morrow

It is understood that a temporary organization will be had at the National Guards hall corner Sixth and Race streets, at noon

At a consultation of chairman of the State delegations to day, with the Executive Committee it was agreed that the organization of the Convention should comprise two gentlemen from each delegation as Vice Presidents, and the same number of each as Committee on resolutions credentials etc Among the chairmen selected by the various delegations are J Fielding of New York J L Alcorn of Mississippi, F B Pomeroy, of Maryland, J L Orr of South Carolina Gov Parsons of Alabama P A Morse, of Louisiana Barton Abel, of Missouri, W S Rosencrans, of Ohio O H Browning of Illinois C D Loomis, of Michigan Governor Porter and Senator Cowan of Pennsylvania. Vallandigham declines positively to withdraw from the Convention

Henry Clay Dean, of Iowa, has written a letter declining to serve as a delegate.

Among the arrivals to-night was Dean Richmond

It is generally believed that the business of the Convention will be confined to an enunciation of principles without reference to any political party now existing It is supposed that Senator Hendricks, of Indiana will be temporary chairman of the Convention Winthrop, of Massachusetts, and Gov Dix are spoken of in connection with the permanent presidency

CHICAGO, August 13—The Philadelphia special dispatches in the morning papers say that the attendance at the Convention will be very full and proceedings harmonious, although Vallandigham gives trouble by his obstinacy Vallandigham was called a Black Republican emissary at the guard-house on Sunday evening, and he knocked the man down

Fernando Wood publishes a letter declining to be a delegate, and Henry Clay Dean, of Iowa, also withdraws The Kentucky delegation has unanimously resolved to support Vallandigham, and to leave the Convention if he is excluded.

There will be nothing of importance done before Wednesday, the wigwam not being finished Ashmun will probably be president Dean Richmond and Thurlow Weed are actively managing the preliminaries Richmond agrees that the Democracy shall not meddle with the spoils.

PHILADELPHIA Aug 14 —A large meeting was held at the National Guards Hall on Monday evening Speeches were made by Montgomery Blair and Governor Orr The Governor said it had been too long years since he had the pleasure of addressing a Pennsylvania audience, in Independence Square, and since that time the North and South had, been separated by a wide gulf but that gulf was now closed and he for one wished to thoroughly obliterate all traces of it. He said that he would not now refer to the last four years of war, but merely intended to call up one or two incidents connected with it of which he wanted to speak He and his audience had been brought up in widely different political schools He had been taught that the States were supreme, and they, not the General Government was supreme His section had demanded its supposed privileges. The North had denied them The South claimed the right of secession The North denied the existence of any such right The South seceded and with the North appealed to arms, and finally both sections threw down the gauntlet to settle their dispute on the field of battle The night was long and desperate and bloody, and it ended in the defeat of the South which had appealed to arms—the last and highest earthly resort —and the decision had been against them, a decision he would say, far more complete and final than any which could come from the highest judicial tribunal The question of the right of secession had been settled completely and forever, and the results of the war had decided that the General Government was supreme. In this decision the Southern people, and he among them acquiesced in all sincerity, and he came here on this opportunity to say it to a Northern audience to declare that the South renounced the right of secession and accepted in good faith its allegiance to the General Government They claimed to be once more citizens under that Government, and as such they sincerely wished, for the general welfare of their common country, the union of all the States, its reputation abroad and the prosperity at home As to the people of the North, this is our country, said Mr Orr, as well as yours We are again fellow citizens, again brothers, and I, a participant in rebellion, come here to-night to say that I renounce the right of secession, the right of appeal to arms, and acknowledge the supremacy over me of the Government of this Union, and the South now that it was once more a part of our common country, had an interest in the national debt. That debt was created by war, but it was created by this country as well as by the country of those whom he addressed. He, as a citizen of the Union, had an interest in that payment equal to that of other citizens, and he could say in behalf of the Southern people, that on their part, there was no intention to repudiate. They recognized it in all its force, and nothing was further from their interest than to repudiate the debt of the common country One other point to which he would refer was, that the South had already been impoverished by war. Its banks, its money and resources were all gone. Its people were without means of restoring the prosperity of their section, and without credit But one road was open to them, and that was to conciliate northern capitalists and procure peace by a sincere loyalty to the General Government and a support of the Union. Their interests equally with their wishes extended in that direction, without union they could hope for no restoration of their prosperity, and, therefore, additional and strong reasons was added to many others, why they should be believed when they proposed to support the General Government Notwithstanding the Southern people had elected their best man (their loyal men for representatives in Congress) they had been for eight long months knocking at the door and had been refused admittance Mr Orr asked if this was just. [Cries of "No, no."] He continued. These representatives are refused admission, although there lies at the very foundation of the Government the great principle for which our fathers fought, that there should be no taxation without representation. The South is a part of the country, and should have its just share in Congress, and yet their representatives had been for eight long months knocking at the doors of Congress, and by the ruling of that power been refused admittance. He asked that privilege for none but loyal men, but contended that loyal men should have it. These representatives, said he, did not go to Washington to employ any Trojan horse stratagem, nor do they profess loyalty merely to obtain admittance so that afterward they can throw off the mask and endeavor to imperil or overthrow the Government They do not ask admission merely to create disturbance. They come and knock, and ask it in order in all sincerity to aid in legislation for their common country, to enjoy that right the Constitution grants them, to help make laws for a Union they love equally with the people of the North.

Aid for Irish Widows and Orphans

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13 —An address was delivered this evening in aid of the widows and children of the Irish prisoners, in the Music Fund Hall. Hon. John F. Hogan, of Missouri, presided.

Foreign News Per Atlantic Cable.

NEW YORK, Aug 14.—The morning papers have the following dispatches via the Atlantic Cable.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug 12.—The United States naval officers made their official entry into the city yesterday, (Saturday), August 11th, and had a grand reception Fifty thousand people turned out to witness their entrance. They were welcomed by a magnificent ovation, with music, cheers, display of flags, and thousands of handkerchiefs waving in all directions. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed. Hon. C M Clay, our Minister to the Court of St Petersburg, gave a brilliant entertainment at his hotel to the diplomatic corps, the heads of departments, and distinguished citizens, in honor of our naval officers A ball and supper were given by the Yacht Club which was attended by the beauty and grace of the city All the public buildings were dressed in Union colors and brilliantly illuminated which, with the fireworks, tended to produce a very lively sensation Altogether the affair was a splendid tribute to America

BERLIN, Prussia, August 12 —Prussia has informed Austria that she (Prussia) will maintain the right of Italy to Venetia. The same official organ, the Zeitung, says that Napoleon's absurd demand has raised hopes in France which it is impossible for Germany to fulfill The ideas of the revolution must have taken the place of the usual course of policy of France. The changes which have taken place in Germany are of a national German, not of an international character, and convey no menace or danger to France

VIENNA, August 11 —The Austrian Minister of Finance has resigned The Austrian Ambassador to Rome has arrived in that city

BRUSSELS, Belgium, August 12.—News received in this city from Vienna, says that great excitement exists there. Four hundred and eighty-two men are to be tried on charges of high treason Crowds of people in the streets have hailed the Emperor, Francis Joseph with shouts of abdicate! abdicate!

FLORENCE, Italy, August 12.—An armistice between Austria and Italy, of four weeks duration has been signed It will continue in force after the expiration of that time unless notice of its cessation is duly given by either power to the other A line of demarkation between Austria and Italy has been agreed upon and the Venetians who have been compelled to emigrate from Venetia as part of the Austrian Empire, can now return to Venetia.

LONDON, Aug 13.—Consols are quoted at 87¾ for money U S five-twenties at 68½c. The following are the closing prices of to day's sales Consols, for money, 87¾c U S five-twenties, 68½, Illinois Central shares, 80½c, Erie Railroad 42½c.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—The old steamer Hermann, which has been lying off Beale street wharf for a number of years past, was sold at auction this morning for $17,000 to T J L Smiley She will probably be broken up

The suit of Geo. E. Dingle vs California Steam Navigation Company will be tried in the 4th District Court to-morrow, before a jury Dingle was the engineer of the steamer Sophie McLane which exploded at Suisun, in 1864, on which he was seriously injured He now sues the Navigation Company for $30 000 or more damages, and alleges that the boilers were in an unsafe condition and unfit for use, and that the Company had been repeatedly notified that such was the case The explosions on the Yosemite, Washoe, Sophie McLane and other steamers in California have never been satisfactorily accounted for, and if the present trial should throw any light on the subject repetitions of such terrible disasters may be avoided

The man named Murphy who was found with his wife by health inspector Clarke last Friday, sinking from excessive debauchery died this morning in the Home for Inebriates from delirium tremens The equally unfortunate wife of the misguided man died in the city and county hospital of Angeles, of fever brought on by continued and violent drinking, within half an hour of her husband's decease

John McQuade, for some ten years past a clerk in the Hall of Records died suddenly this morning of hemorrhage of the lungs He was apparently in good health yesterday and attended to business as usual At three o clock this morning his landlady heard an unusual noise in his room on Sacramento street near Kearney, and knocked at his door He requested her to come in She entered the room and discovered him standing at the wash bowl bleeding profusely at the mouth A moment afterwards he fell exclaiming, I am dying and alone

In the revenue case of the United States vs W L C Miller, the defendant came into court through his attorney and confessed judgment. It will be remembered that after a five days trial before Judge Hoffman, a few weeks ago, the jury disagreed and the case was set down for a rehearing. The abandonment of all defense has the effect of confessing the property, including the building distillery, apparatus machinery, etc. and shows the suspicions of the officers who made the seizure were fully justified

A dispatch was published yesterday announcing the loss of the British ship Fairlight, 588 tons Capt. Bush, in the China Sea. The Fairlight cleared from this port Nov 1st, 1865, for Hong Kong, and at the time of the accident was on her way back, having sailed from Shanghai May 8th She was consigned to Macondray & Co of this city She had for cargo [illegible] Chinese merchandise, and 127 Chinese and 4 European passengers No further particulars of the disaster have been received She is supposed to have been struck by a typhoon and to have gone down with all her cargo, officers and passengers Cargo valued at $100 000, insured entirely in China At Yedo June 27th, was held a convention in which America, Japan, England, France and Holland participated At this convention a new tariff [illegible] was adopted Articles of tariff are of great importance to our commercial community By ship Harley [illegible] days from Hong Kong we have the following news from the Daily Press of June 11th 12th and 14th There was no later intelligence concerning the rebel movements north In all probability the rebels have made so rapid their appearance at [illegible] dispersed when it abandoned that town with its booty The conduct of the British authorities in connection with recent expedition against the pirates of the West Coast, is severely commented upon by the Hong Kong press.

A vessel with 453 Chinese emigrants recently sailed for Java, an important event, as the Dutch Government has hitherto resisted the introduction of Chinese Coolies to the island

An accident involving great loss of life occurred at King Po in connection with a religious ceremony No less than 60 fanatical Chinese miserably perished

It has been declared that small steamers in the employ of foreign merchants shall not be permitted to penetrate into the silk districts, but the trade must be carried on in Chinese built boats

The Fatai of Tsintung has been reduced to the third official rank on account of his failure to exterminate the rebels as fast as the Emperor desired.

The Markets.

FLOUR—There is but little inquiry for export at unchanged rates

WHEAT—Sales inferior at $137½, fair at [illegible] 50; good at $1 50 choice $1 55.

BARLEY—Choice coast at 87½, prime brewing 90, good brewing 90c ⅌ 100 lbs

POTATOES—No change in price

A private dispatch from New York announces the death by Cholera of J Robinson, formerly of the firm of Bragg, Rollinson & Co of this city, and successor to Mott, Robinson & Co in New York

Gold—Legal Tenders—Mining Stocks

Telegrams dated New York to-day quote an advance in gold. Sales being made at 149½ Sterling was 107½@108¾ A dispatch received here yesterday dated New York Aug 11th, says that seven thirties had advanced to eight per cent per month on the street.

The market here for legal tenders is dull at 71¾c buying and 72¾c selling, with a downward tendency

The only stocks dealt in to any extent at the board this morning were Bullion Belcher, Empire Mill and Yellow Jacket Sales of Gould & Curry were made at an advance of $30 from the last cash sale on the 8th inst From the morning board yesterday Empire Mill advanced $1 50 Yellow Jacket, on the other hand, declined $3; 50; Ophir $1, Belcher, $4; Overman and Chollar Potosi, each $.

FROM BIG BEND

The Walla Walla Statesman of the 10th furnishes the following:

$6,000 IN TREASURE—A BIG THING

Our old and esteemed friend I Kaufman, Esq , formerly of the Dalles, arrived at Walla Walla on Monday last, direct from the Big Bend country Mr K. brought with him some $60,000 in treasure, mostly taken from the Big Bend mines. In the lot was a specimen which in size and appearance bore a marked resemblance to a lamp reflector The back of the specimen was of rough quartz, while the face shone with the splendor of burnished gold It weighed $2.53, but Mr K said $500 would not buy it

FAVORABLE REPORTS—CONDITION OF THE MINES

The report from the mines is favorable, and this notwithstanding the miners have had to contend against a late season and unusually high water The water had subsided and the miners were getting fairly to work The mines are what is known as deep diggings In some instances the miners had to go down 50 and 60 feet before reaching the pay dirt. In this respect, as also in the appearance of the gold, the mines greatly resemble those of Cariboo.

PROSPECTS OF THE MINES.

Those who have got to work in their claims are taking out large sums and are well satisfied with the prospect It is now reduced to a certainty that Big Bend will be a permanent mining camp, and that from that quarter we are to draw a goodly portion of our gold crop.

THE STEAMER "FORTY NINE."

The steamer Forty Nine, Capt Len White, is making regular trips between Little Dalles and Death Rapids, and under her present management is becoming eminently popular The boat has already more than paid for herself, and should nothing untoward happen she promises to prove a fortune for her owners

San Francisco Legal Tender rates .... 71½@72¼
New York Gold Quotations 149½

RATES OF FREIGHT —The Red Bluff Independent publishes the standard rates of freight from Red Bluffs to forty-seven different points, including "Owyhee and Jordan Creek." The tariff to those latter places is put down at 11½ cents per lb. These are the rates as charged by the "Northern Teamster's Association, and are [illegible] by order of the board of managers. The rates of freight via the Columbia river route, from San Francisco to Owyhee at the present time are as follows: From San Francisco to Portland by steamship $8 ton $8, say ⅜ lb ¾ of a cent Portland to Umatilla ½ lb 1½ Umatilla to Ruby City, 7½ Total cost from San Francisco to Owyhee, 9¾ cents Thus, it will be seen that according to the most favorable showing of the teamsters [illegible] the route from San Francisco to Ruby city via Portland is to-day carrying freight from 1¾ to 3¾ cents cheaper per pound than from Red Bluffs to Ruby city If we include $10 per ton for freight to Red Bluffs from San Francisco, which is the usual price, it adds so much more in our favor. The California Steam Navigation Company, it is said have been carrying freight for nothing on the Sacramento river, to prevent the same from coming this way, but most likely they will soon get sick of that. As to the opening of an express line by stage over the route from Chico to Boise City and thence to Montana Territory, we are informed that the report of the commissioner appointed to inspect the route, was unfavorable, and that it was not deemed feasible.

THE MONTANA EXPRESS.—In yesterday's OREGONIAN we referred to a private letter from Helena, touching rather harshly upon the facilities of carrying express matter between Portland and Helena Last evening we received by Wells Fargo & Co , the Walla Walla Statesman of August 10th, from which we extract the following, which would seem to imply that Messrs. Waldron & Co. are keeping this line up to time The Statesman says: "Mr Edgar, with Waldron & Co 's express, arrived at Walla Walla on Tuesday last, having come through from Blackfoot in six days. Mr E brings Virginia City and Helena papers of the 28th ult In addition to the usual letter and newspaper express, Mr E. Brought down $75,000 in treasure. This is the largest amount received by express at any one time this season and was all from McClellan gulch and owned by Jas C. Welch & Co The most extensive improvements are being made at Helena city. Many of the merchants are providing themselves with fire proof stores, built of stone, and four and five stories high. The [illegible] evidently have faith in the country. Notwithstanding the grasshopper plague, the crops look well, and promise an abundant harvest. The labor market is overstocked, and farm hands can be had in any number at merely nominal wages. There is a great rush for the Atlantic States, the boats leave Fort Benton loaded down with passengers. Home-sickness and a dread of passing the winter in the mountains are the principal causes assigned for the stampede."

TRIP TO MT. HOOD.—Dr. W. E Whitehead, of Cape Disappointment, arrived by the steamer John H. Couch last evening He brings with him an aneroid barometer, and contemplates a visit to Mount Hood, leaving Portland this morning, in company with Prof. Wood, Rev Mr Atkinson, and others. The party will take a little pains to ascertain the exact height of this most famous mountain, as by the use of the barometer above alluded to, the altitude can be determined. The aneroid barometer is a modification of the vacuum case barometer, the earliest form of which was invented by M. Conto, Prof. [illegible] of the [illegible] school of Meudon, France The practical utility of the best of Dent's aneroids is confirmed by testimony on this continent, although the Coast Survey and the Smithsonian Institute have pronounced against them. However, it is stated that no objections can apply to their use in the hands of practical surveyors topographers, artists, tourists, etc , and we shall be pleased to record the [illegible] made with the instrument on Mount Hood by the gentleman leaving to-day.

"TURNING OUT GOODS"—In answer to an inquiry put to one of our business men yesterday, we received the answer that he was busy "turning out goods." The piles of boxes, gunnies, cases, etc , on the sidewalk in front of many of our jobbing houses attested that really a great amount of goods were being turned out. On many of the packages, marked and waiting transportation to the dock, we read "Helena, M. T," "Ruby City, I. T " "Canyon City, Oregon," "Colville, W. T , many of "steamer [illegible]," etc., showing plainly that the contents are calculated for supplying the wants of a community of miners at work in a very extensive region of the country east and north of us. This is a matter well calculated to inspire the confidence of our merchants. They never before enjoyed such [illegible] prospects in the fall of the year.

A PUBLIC WANT.—As the city now owns and can control the use of Block 172, designated "North Market Square," and as there is an absolute want for a public [illegible] in this city, to be [illegible] after the order of such things in [illegible] of large size, we have repeatedly been urged, by both [illegible], to suggest that the Common Council take action in this respect tending to the remedy of an evil which is quite prevalent in the city. There can be no doubt but that if the persons [illegible] were to petition the Council for the erection of a building on block 172, adapted to the purpose in [illegible], it would [illegible]. The block is of no value to the city in its present condition, but in case it could be converted to the uses for which it was [illegible] [illegible] a source of revenue.

[illegible] The citizens of Sacramento are taking steps to form a fire insurance company in that city This is [illegible] and one which we should like very much to [illegible] in this city The amount of insurable property in Portland is very large, and the money paid [illegible] for policies in a [illegible] company would very soon form a good basis for a wealthy home company, [illegible] as our firms at never allow the property to be [illegible]. It is said that the city of Sacramento annually pays $190,000, for policies of insurance to [illegible] and San Francisco companies, and we presume Portland pays as much or more, in proportion, and the risks may be [illegible] not so great here as at Sacramento

IMPROVEMENTS AT FT. VANCOUVER.—The officers' quarters and garrison at Fort Vancouver are being supplied with [facilities] by which the occupants can in future receive [a] supply of water for all purposes, without [illegible] on the horse and cart to haul it for them from the Columbia river, which has been the case heretofore. Twelve or more cisterns, of a capacity of one hundred barrels each, are now in process of building, and distributed in the places where required.

[illegible]—The first Annual Soiree Musicale, given by Prof. Grob to his pupils at Turn Verein Hall last evening, and the distribution of prizes at his rooms [yester]day afternoon, were [illegible] which were replete with [illegible]. It is the first occasion of the kind that has transpired in this city, and we wish to congratulate the Prof. upon the marked [illegible] which has attended his efforts as [illegible] of music in our midst.

THE [illegible] MILL.—We learn, says the Walla Walla Statesman, that Col Ruckel's mill is [illegible] [illegible] in crushing rock taken from the Rockfellow lead. This mill has been in continuous operation for nearly two years, and the returns show a larger average yield than any similar mining enterprise in the country. Col. R.'s numerous friends will be pleased to learn that his quartz operation has proved a [illegible] investment.

[illegible]—We are indebted to Mr. Thomas Harris, of the [illegible], for a fine pair of grouse, [illegible] [illegible] a goodly [illegible] taken by him on the [illegible] of a late excursion to the interior. We thought we 'spied Tom [illegible] all way out W[illegible] street last evening, looking a little browned on the [illegible] and now we have evidence of the fact that he has been enjoying rare sport in some quarter.

GOLDEN STATE CHAMPAGNE.—There is one thing which the State of California excels in, and that is the production of wine and champagne. Mr A. B Bradford, 39 Front street, is agent for the sale of the "Golden State Champagne," an article which cannot be beat. See advertisement.

[illegible]'s COURT.—Three several cases of drunkenness were "treated" in Recorder's Court yesterday His Honor, Judge Hoffman, prescribed "doses" in accordance with the nature of the [illegible] cases, and the City Marshal is administering to the same at the City Hospital on Main street.

FROM THE COAST.—The steamer John H Couch, Capt. Snow, arrived at an early hour last evening from Astoria, having touched at Westport and Monticello on the way She brought a very fair freight, and quite a number of [illegible] visitors from Clatsop [illegible] —Mr P. C Schuyler, Jr., of the firm of Smith & Davis, is now en route for his home in our city, having left New York city on the last steamer, a few days since.

FOR SAN FRANCISCO —The steamship Montana, Capt Kelly, will leave for San Francisco as advertised this evening. Wells, Fargo & Co. will send a letter express by her

HARPER for August, and other late periodicals, have arrived at Barrett's.

FROM WALLA WALLA

We clip the following items from the Statesman of the 10th

WALLA WALLA AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

The meeting of the Agricultural Society held on the 4th of August, adopted regulations for the government of the Fair The Society seem determined to push forward and make an effort to get up a creditable display of our stock, mechanism, &c , and surely we will not let the opportunity pass without making a creditable effort to show to the world what we can do and what we can produce from our excellent soil

LOW PRICE OF WHEAT

Wheat has started off in this market at the low figure of sixty cents per bushel This is the lowest figure that wheat has ever ruled at here, and the farmers all say, lower than it can be raised for So far as we have heard any expression upon the subject, those farmers who are not compelled to sell, will hold on to their grain for high prices, and many are already making preparations to build granaries for this purpose.

RETURN OF DISAPPOINTED MINERS.

Small parties of disappointed miners continue to arrive here every day from Blackfoot. Their reports agree—that the mines are good so far as they extend but they are not half extensive enough to furnish employment for the miners now there No new discoveries of any extent have been made this season though hundreds of men have been continually prospecting. Walla Wallans who have lately returned, express a desire to remain here for the future, even, as one of them expresses it, "If wheat should rule at two bits a bushel"

THE QUESTION OF WAGES.

Wages for farm hands and the prices of grain seem to be wofully out of proportion in this valley this year Three dollars per day is the ruling price for harvest hands The threshers, too, it appears, have struck for higher wages, and propose to charge eight and ten cents for threshing. The arrival of a few more men from Blackfoot will probably lower wages in a few days, and we understand that a number of farmers have sent for threshing machines, which will bring down the prices of threshing to a reasonable figure

FROM IDAHO.

The Avalanche of the 4th furnishes the following

NEW DISCOVERIES—BLUE GULCH PLACERS

Two discoveries of good ledges have been made this week near the Garrison & Varney on Florida mountain South of Wade's Gulch a ledge has been struck, this week that has every indication of the [illegible]

The Richmond and Varney & Co [illegible] [illegible] last week—are being developed with the most flattering improvements. The [illegible] as all [illegible] [illegible] of the Mining star are [illegible] [illegible] a future.

There is a species of placer mining going on in this gulch rather new [illegible] [illegible] of [illegible] diggings [illegible] [illegible] tunneling. We learn from Mr David [illegible] that he is interested in a claim of this kind at the head of Blue Gulch and has a tunnel in (with branches) eight hundred feet. Pay dirt is taken out in the fall and winter and washed in the spring. The success of this claim will doubtless inspire further hill prospecting Every hill and slide will not pay—they never do anywhere but there are probably many good hill claims along Jordan

THE INDIAN CAMPAIGN

The following is extracted from a letter (July 2sth) from Capt. Walker to Capt. Styles

"Since Jennings and party left, numerous signs have been seen in and around here leading towards Steins Mountain and cattle have been driven there within a day or two. I shall with thirty men (Infantry), start for there to-morrow and endeavor to recover some of the stock—or at at any rate punish them I believe none of the parties have yet been in the canyon where I had my fight, and I am inclined to believe Mr Indian is still there. * * * Had I plenty of good horses and a few more men, we would make it warm for somebody

HOMICIDE—EXAMINATION AND DISCHARGE OF THE PRISONER

The examination of John Sherwood for the killing of Harry Cooper took place before Justice Lyman, at Silver City, on Wednesday, 1st inst The evidence showed that Cooper, the deceased, had an altercation with Sherwood on last Sunday, at the store of Edwards & Creed, in Oro' Fino District in which Harry was the aggressor, and that the parties were separated by the bystanders, that immediately Sherwood left the store and went to his cabin about a quarter of a mile distant, that Cooper, on ascertaining that Sherwood had left, made various and divers threats against his life and started for the cabin of Sherwood vowing vengeance all the while. In the meantime Myers, a friend of both parties started by a more direct route to Sherwood's cabin and told him to keep out of the way, as Cooper was coming and had threatened to take his life Sherwood closed the door of the cabin and Myers advanced to meet Cooper advising him to drop the difficulty and return At this point Joe Riddle an officious friend of Cooper s, told Cooper to "kill the s—n of a b—h" This was within a short distance of Sherwood s cabin and in full hearing of Sherwood who was therein Cooper then went to his own tent, buckled on his revolver and knife—took his Henry rifle and started for Sherwood s cabin When near the cabin he raised the gun to fire through the closed door, but Myers ran up and wrested the rifle from his hands. Cooper then drew his revolver rushed to the door and violently kicked it open Here he was met by Sherwood, who grasped the presented weapon and averted it just as Cooper shot—the ball lodging in the wall. Immediately and before Cooper could shoot again, Sherwood fired the fatal shot which ended poor Harry s earthly career This is in substance the evidence before the examining magistrate Sherwood was of course discharged.

The following items are from the Union of the 4th

ANOTHER AFFAIR OF HONOR.

We record another of those interesting affairs in this issue. W. J McConnell, ex Deputy U S. Marshal, challenged H. C Street, editor of the Idaho World, for the satisfaction due one gentleman from another The cause of the challenge was, we believe, some reflections made by the latter in the last number of the World against the character of the former Street accepted the challenge, named derringers as the weapons, and the distance sixty feet. Early on Thursday morning, both parties repaired, with the usual number of friends, to the spot selected on Moore s Creek, below the Warm Springs The choice of positions and word was won by the second of Mr Street Both parties were said to be collected and cool and showed no flattering or faintheartedness. At the word from the seconds, the principals wheeled and fired. Neither party was hit McConnell passed his pistol to his seconds for reloading, and Street signified his willingness to accommodate him with another shot. The seconds, however, came to some understanding and concluded that the honor of both gentlemen was fully sustained and satisfied

INFORMATION WANTED

Does anybody know anything about William Britt or his whereabouts. If so, say! He used to live at or near Placerville, and his brother, James Britt, wants to hear from him See advertisement in another column, and send the word.

The Statesman of the 4th and 7th, has the following

AN OLD OREGONIAN DROWNED.

It is our painful duty to announce the death by drowning of Dr. J S McIteeny, of this city He left home yesterday afternoon, to attend a patient, living a few miles up the river on the other side. Going up he crossed the ferry opposite town, but coming back took the road by the ford about three miles above Boise city near Mr Conner's. He appears to have been unacquainted with the ford, as he inquired on the other side of the river of some persons where it was as he came towards it. About five o'clock in the afternoon his horse was found by some persons on the other bank of the river dripping wet, and without a rider Mr Conner, after a very hasty search in the vicinity of the ford rode immediately to town and gave the alarm A large number of citizens went up but could hear or find nothing but the place where the horse came out of the river on the same side he went in but about seventy yards below The probability is that he missed the ford, or his horse stumbled, and he was carried a little down stream into deep, swift water Search was continued till after dark, but without success, and there is no hope of his being found alive, for had he got out of the river he could have made his appearance in the neighborhood [illegible] dark.

NOMINATION FOR THE LEGISLATURE.

The Union Central Committee have put Harry Ellsworth on the Legislative ticket in place of us [J S. Reynolds], of the Statesman. That's evidence of the superior judgment of committees over conventions. Harry is of the true grit popular with everybody, and if not elected, we shall always think he ought to have been.

ROBBERY OF A WOMAN

A slippery, red haired and whiskered villain, named Benj. W Bloomer, robbed the house of a Spanish courtezan living at the corner of Idaho and Sixth streets, last Friday of two thousand dollars, and decamped with his haul. The act was pretty near as mean as stealing the Fenian funds in Boise county for electioneering purposes.

MISCELLANEOUS

John A. Paxton—of the well known firm of Paxton & Thornburg—is about opening a banking house in the stone building, Washington street, Silver The room is being suitably fitted with counters, etc

Wells, Fargo & Co. have sent a few over one hundred letters by the last Chico stage. Passengers speak well of the route and pronounce it preferable to any other road in operation to California.

A post office will soon be established in Oro.

S. T.—1860.—X

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities, and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must supersede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required

They purify, strengthen and invigorate
They create a healthy appetite
They are an antidote to change of water and diet
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.
They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St Croix rum For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle

Beware of imposters. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U S Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in bulk, is an impostor Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U S Law, and will be so prosecuted by us We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c , who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c , is incredible The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

READ AND REFLECT.

Make sure of Heaven. "But how?" you ask;
We answer, "'Tis an easy task,
Strengthen the STOMACH, and sustain
The NERVES, the servants of the brain.
The LIVER keep in active play
And regulate, from day to day
Each organ al l, on Nature s plan,
Brace and refresh the INNER MAN,
And like a watch that's kept in chime
By constant care, with railroad time,
The system's tone and strength renew,
And thereby cheer the spirits, too.
"How," you inquire, "can this be done?
This Victory o'er Disease be won?"
"HOSTETTER'S BITTERS" we reply,
IS HEALTH'S SUPREME PROTECTION—TRY !

As a means of regenerating the disordered and enfeebled system, regulating every function of the internal organs, reviving the depressed spirits, invigorating the constitution, and prolonging life, no medicinal preparation, either of the past or the present time, has been so completely and universally successful as

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Against the vapors foul prepare,
That fever-taint the heavy air
Drink not unmixed the water found
In prairies, woods or marshy ground.
If sedentary toil you ply,
Nature you must assist—or die—
For when debarred from exercise
For artificial aid she cries
Medicine's grand purpose and intent
Is threatened evil to prevent
[illegible]
Hostetter's Bitters use—for note
They are the SUREST ANTIDOTE

To set at defiance the miasma of unhealthy soils, the poison of unwholesome water, the effluvia of crowded work rooms and factories and the baneful influence of sedentary employments, it is only necessary to be fore armed with

Dyspepsia's pangs, that rack and grind
The body, and depress the mind
Agues, that as they go and come,
Make life a constant martyrdom;
Colics and dysentric pains,
'Neath which the strong man's vigor wanes;
Bilious complaints, those tedious ills,
Ne er conquered yet by drastic pills;
Dread diarrhoea that cannot be
Cured by destructive mercury,
Slow constitutional decay
That brings Death nearer, day by day;
Nervous prostration, mental gloom—
Heralds of madness or the tomb;
For these—though mineral nostrums fail—
Means of Relief at least we hail
HOSTETTER'S BITTERS—medicine sure,
Not to prevent alone, but cure

In dyspepsia fever and ague, bilious complaints, constitutional and nervous debility constipation sea-sickness, spasms, and in all complaints of Man or Woman, proceeding from casual or inherent weakness of the body, the one great remedy and restorative is

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

To wanderers on sea or land,
From Polar shore to Tropic strand,
To householders lone, in regions new,
And dwellers in great cities, too
To soldiers in camp fort and field
Who need against disease a shield,
To miners, California bound
And tillers of wet marshy ground,
To feeble wives of fragile mould,
To young and middle-aged, and old
To those in health who would enjoy
Heaven s best gifts without alloy
To all the strengthless, weak and pale,
Who droop, yet know not what they ail,
Hostetter's Bitters we present
As Health s most potent element

If there is any value in public opinion or any weight in medical testimony, the very best and safest Tonic Corrective and Alterative now before the world is Manufactory Established in June, 1851.

STEAM POWER, NOS 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions the sale of which daily increases The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice

Marching Through Georgia.

Bring the good ol I bugle boys, we ll sing another song—
Sing it with a spirit that will start the world along—
Sing it as we used to sing it, fifty thousand strong,
While we were marching through Georgia

Hurrah! Hurrah! we'll ring the Jubilee!
Hurrah! Hurrah! the flag that makes you free!"
So we sung the chorus from Atlanta to the sea,
While we were marching through Georgia

How the darkeys shouted when they heard the joyful sound!
How the turkeys gobbled which our commissaries found!
How the sweet potatoes even started from the ground,
While we were marching through Georgia.

Yes, and there were Union men who wept with joyful tears,
When they saw the Honor'd flag they had not seen for years
Hardly could they be restrained from breaking forth in cheers
While we were marching through Georgia.

"Sherman's dashing Yankee boys will never reach the coast!"
So the saucy rebels said, and 'twas a handsome boast,
Had they not forgot, alas! to reckon with the host,
While we were marching through Georgia.

So we made a thoroughfare for Freedom and her train,
Sixty miles in latitude—three hundred to the main,
Treason fled before us for resistance was in vain,
While we were marching through Georgia.

Tales of an Old Sexton.

A MIDNIGHT APPARITION

O treacherous night!
Thou lend'st thy ready veil to every treason!
And teeming mischief thrives beneath thy shade.
—Aaron Hill

Mr Colebrook was dead He was a rich man, yet a slight acquaintance with him would have convinced even a superficial observer that he was not a happy man. He was misanthropic in his views, though he had the reputation in the street of being a very kind hearted and benevolent man. Every day seemed to usher him into the area of a new strife with powers of misery. Apparently he was tired of life, and impatiently waited for the hour that had now come, and which would put him beyond the trials and woes of this sublunary existence

And yet many could remember when he was a gay and cheerful person. Before his marriage with a poor but beautiful girl some seven years before his death, he had worn a sunny smile, and his life seemed to him a pleasant dream.

Though only thirty five when he married, people said there was too much difference between his own age and that of his wife, who was, I believe, about twenty-two. She had been poor, and forced to content herself with few of the gayeties of life; but now she was rich, and her indulgent husband gave her free access to his coffers. Wealth fostered pride, and Mrs Colebrook became a leader of fashion—the gayest of the gay. Her beauty and influential position in society made her a queen, and her smile was courted by the brilliant and dissolute. The house, when she was at home, was always filled with gay gallants and lordly ladies.

All the world could see this, and the next thing it saw, was, that Mr. Colebrook grew sad and melancholy; that his wife was cold to him, and there was little if any sympathy between them. The people said the poor man had married badly, and the croakers all "knew that it would be so."

Mr. Colebrook was dead. Whatever woes had weighed him down, he was beyond their reach now. People said he had died of a broken heart; that the whirl of pleasure in his own house had been a hell to him, and that his gay wife had been the scorpion who stung him to death.

For my part, I pay but little attention to the busy tongue of gossip. I account all it says, whether good or bad, as mere slander. Whatever stories I had heard concerning Mrs. Colebrook—and I had heard many—passed "in at one ear and out at the other."

"Mr. Mortal," said a man at my door.

"That is my name."

"Mr Colebrook is dead, and Mrs. Colebrook wants you to come up to the house and lay him out."

"Mr. Colebrook!" I exclaimed, for the intelligence was very unexpected to me, as well as to the whole city, when it was announced.

I had heard that he was suffering from an attack of bilious cholic, but it had not been even rumored that he was dangerously ill.

"Yes, he is dead," replied the man; "Mrs. Colebrook wishes you to make haste"

"I didn't know he was sick."

"He got very bad last night, and grew worse ever since, till twenty minutes ago, when he died."

Mr. Colebrook's house was not five minutes' walk from home, and I hastened there to perform the offices for the dead I was shown into the room where the corpse lay, just as death had done its work. The sufferer had apparently died in the greatest agony. The bed-clothes still evidenced the struggle between the tyrant and his victim.

With the assistance of the man servant who had gone to my house, I laid him out and put the room in order.

I was about to depart when the man servant called me back.

"Mrs. Colebrook would like to see you," he said, as he showed me to a parlor in front of the room in which the corpse lay.

She appeared to be in the deepest distress, and the family physician was still present, using his best efforts to reduce her to a state of calmness. He succeeded to some extent: and she spoke to me with tolerable self-possession.

"You will make all the arrangements, Mr. Mortal," said she.

"I will, madam."

"Oh, it was terrible!" groaned she.

"Be calm, Mrs. Colebrook," interposed Dr. Rowne.

"I cannot, Doctor; I feel as though I should become distracted."

"Nay, madam, control yourself," and the Doctor, who was a young and very good-looking man, took her hand and uttered some sentimental remark, which I have now forgotten.

"Will you watch with him?" she almost gasped, looking eagerly at me.

"Watch with him?" asked Dr. Rowne in surprise.

"Yes."

"It is entirely unnecessary.

"This corpse must have watchers," she added, more calmly than she had yet spoken.

"There is no need of them, but"

"I would not have him left alone for all the world," she said, with a kind of convulsive shiver.

"No possible harm could befall him."

"But it seems so neglectful to desert the body as soon as the spirit has fled."

"It is entirely a matter of choice," I added.

"Couldn't you watch with him, Mr. Mortal?"

"If you particularly desire it."

"I do, I could not bear to have his remains guarded by a mere servant You will oblige me very much."

I consented to the arrangement, and promised to return by nine o'clock in the evening.

After ordering the coffin for the deceased—for at that time they were not kept on hand to such an extent as they are now—and attending to my private affairs, I again repaired to the Colebrook mansion.

It was customary at the time of which I write for two persons to perform the service for which I was engaged, though watching was then going [illegible] to be alone than with company. I had brought an interesting book from home, and Mrs. Colebrook had provided a very interesting repast for me in the dining room below, so that I looked forward to a very comfortable night. Throwing myself into a large rocking-chair, which had been placed there for my use, I was soon engaged in the entertaining pages of my book. As often as the clock struck, I arose and examined the corpse, moistening the face with alcohol, and wiping away the purging at the mouth.

At eleven o'clock some one entered the house and came up stairs They were the feet of a man and I heard him enter the parlor adjoining the room of death. Though it seemed a rather singular circumstance that a man should enter the house at that time of night, I thought nothing more of it till I heard voices, engaged in earnest conversation. In a few minutes they grew louder and more distinct, and I recognized the voice of Dr. Rowne Perhaps Mrs Colebrook was sick and needed his assistance. But he spoke not in the tones for his profession The other person spoke in a whisper; but the doctor spoke in his natural voice, and seemed to be under no restraint.

The house was still as the tomb, and though I made no effort to hear what was said, the expressions, "will," "three witnesses," "thirty days," and others of a similar character, came distinctly to my ears They aroused my curiosity. Who was this Dr Rowne? Why was he there at this unseasonable hour?

Well, it was none of my business, and half a dozen times I determined not to concern myself about it But it was in vain that I tried to fasten my mind upon the book again, it had lost the power to interest me. I glanced at a door which opened into the room where the speakers were It would be mean to listen, and I would not do it It was the month of May, and the weather was quite chilly I had neglected to bring any extra clothing with me, and I began to feel uncomfortably cold. I rose and paced the floor several minutes.

"Both wills," came to my hearing, in the unguarded tones of Dr Rowne

I paused and looked at the door Apparently the other person, who I doubted not was Mrs Colebrook was speaking, but I heard nothing I threw myself into the chair and began to shiver with cold again On a table lay a clean Marseilles quilt, which had been left there by a servant, and, in the absence of anything better, I unfolded it, and threw it over my shoulders It completely enveloped my body, and I felt quite comfortable again.

"Destroy the now will," said Doctor Rowne

I dropped my book, for this looked like foul play It occurred to me that Mr Colebrook's poor relations would have to suffer for this midnight conference, I knew that he had an only sister, an invalid, who was dependent upon his bounty for subsistence, and my blood boiled with indignation as I thought of what might be the result of this midnight interview

I arose from my chair and went to the door That the end will justify the means, I do not think it sound logic, but where a poor suffering, dependent woman was in danger of being cast upon the tender mercies of a cold world, I was content to be blamed for the meanness of eavesdropping, if thereby I could prevent so foul a wrong.

Before I did it, I could not but recall the reputed character of Mrs Colebrook Without believing much of the gossip that had been circulating concerning her, I could easily arrive at the conclusion that she had been the bane of her husband's happiness

I had been personally acquainted with him who now lay cold in death beforehand, so that I was not obliged to guess at the facts in the case. My own observation, though I moved in an humbler sphere than she, was sufficient to assure me that all was not right, I placed my ear at the keyhole

"When we are married—"

"Hush," said Mrs Colebrook

They spoke in whispers then, and I could distinguish nothing more Need I have heard more?

Women—angel or devil

Was it she who had wept great tears in my presence, who had trembled in the agony of grief before me, now calmly plotting with her paramour, bargaining away the affections which should have lingered like a weeping angel over the couch of him who was not yet buried out of sight? Was it she who had groaned in bitterness at her bereavement, now scheming to rob her sister and orphan of their bounty?

"Oh, woman, false as fair! Yet she is not a woman; she is a demon!

The clock struck twelve, and I turned from my reflections to attend to the corpse. The alcohol which had been provided to wet the face was all used, and I needed a further supply. Taking the dish in my hand, I went to the door with the intention of calling Mrs. Colebrook for it.

First rapping on the door, so as not to surprise them, I opened it and stepped into the room.

"I need a little more alcohol Mrs. Colebrook," I began.

She rose from her chair, and with one long and most unearthly shriek, she fell upon the floor.

Dr. Rowne's knees smote each other, and he shrank back to the furthest corner of the room

"Who are you?" he gasped.

Of course I was very much surprised at this singular reception. Long familiarity with the dead had made me so indifferent to those dreads and fears, which disturb many persons, that I had little consideration for nervousness on this subject.

"Who are you?" groaned the doctor, his teeth chattering with terror

Then it flashed upon my mind that the quilt which enveloped my body was the cause of the mischief. I was involuntarily personating the ghost of the deceased Mr Colebrook, and I do not wonder that the guilty wife and the wretched accomplice were terrified, when at midnight I stalked into the room

I had pinned the counterpane around my neck, so that nothing could be seen of me but my face

I was a ghostly spectre, coming—

"How awful is that hour when conscience stings"—

to curse her for base treachery she was concocting. No wonder she fainted, no wonder the doctor trembled.

I threw off the quilt and told the doctor who I was.

"See what you have done!" said he, pointing to the prostrate lady.

"I heard some voices here, and I have come for some alcohol."

"Need you have come in that garb?"

"I had quite forgotten that I had the quilt on."

"You have killed her, I believe," he continued, bending over the prostrate form of Mrs. Colebrook.

We raised her up, and placed her upon a lounge. She was not dead, and presently her eyes opened.

"Where is he?" gasped she, shaking convulsively.

"Be calm!"

"He will haunt me all my days."

"It was only Mr. Mortal."

Her eyes glared upon me, and then rolled up in in her head. Heaven grant that I may never see such a hideous expression again. She was in a fit.

The house was alarmed, and Dr. Rowne used every exertion to restore her, but all in vain

"She will die," he said, savagely; "you have killed her!"

"Which will did you destroy, doctor?" I asked.

He staggered into the corner of the room, unable to reply. He would never accuse me again, and yet I promised not to expose him; but it was in deference to the invalid sister of the deceased, that I allowed myself to be silent in the presence of infamy.

Before daylight there was another corpse in the house, and it was told for two months after that Mrs. Colebrook had been killed by the shock of her husband's death.

I buried them both two days after, and I had the pleasure of seeing the Colebrook fortune pass into the hands of the poor and deserving sister

I have never seen or heard from Doctor Rowne from that day to this. It is said he went to the East Indies If he did, the devil is with him there, and always will be.

"CONSTITUTION WATER,"

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR DISEASES OF THE

BLADDER, KIDNEYS,

Gravel, Dropsical Swellings,

GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS AT tended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system In fact, it stands unrivalled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above mentioned, and also—

DIABETES IMPOTENCY,
LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION,
INDIGESTION,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET, FLUOR ALBUS,

And in every disease any way connected with the disorder or decay of the PROCREATIVE FUNCTIONS Persons about to marry if conscious of any weakness should take the

CONSTITUTION WATER,

Whether broken down by excess, weak by nature or impaired by sickness the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once rebraced, revivified and built up Well may this celebrated medicine be called the

MEDICAL WONDER.

The stooping trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man, he stands erect, he moves with a firm step, his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom or in almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active, and he goes forth regenerated conscious of new vigor.—The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER, INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS, AND
CATARRH OF THE BLADDER,
STRANGUARY AND BURNING, OR PAINFUL
URINATING
CALCULUS GRAVEL,
BRICK DUST DEPOSIT, AND MUCOUS
OR MILKY DISCHARGES AFTER URINATING.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. TRY IT in these cases and you will ever give praise to

CONSTITUTION WATER.

Males or Females,

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back, and through your hips? CONSTITUTION WATER will relieve you like magic

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus, CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts, gives strength to the digestive organs, brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness [illegible] or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if duly taken in time
